Inspiration

From First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newburyport, MA, USA

"[We] want to share this simple display for Women's History Month. It looks the same from the outside. A woman who said she was raised in Christian Science but had gotten away from it came in to purchase. She took a picture of the Barton quotes to share with her daughter who is in a medical nursing school."

If you would like to read articles from the periodicals about Reading Rooms, visit "Reading Room resources" page and scroll down the page to the "Inspiring articles from the Christian Science magazines" section.

We want to hear from you! How have members of your church and Reading Room staff been praying in support of the healing activity of your Reading Room? Please send your submissions to: opendoors@csp.com.

Annual Meeting 2022

Join us for Annual Meeting 2022 in Boston or online, June 6, at 1p.m. (ET). You're invited to take part in the events scheduled throughout the weekend before Annual Meeting. If you are in Boston, we encourage you to visit the new experience at the Christian Science Publishing House, How Do You See the World?. These exhibits spotlight the inspired actions of people globally and complement this year's Annual Meeting theme:

One infinite God, good, unifies men and nations; constitutes the brotherhood of man; ends wars; fulfils the Scripture, "Love thy neighbor as thyself;" annihilates pagan and Christian idolatry, — whatever is wrong in social, civil, criminal, political, and religious codes; equalizes the sexes; annuls the curse on man, and leaves nothing that can sin, suffer, be punished or destroyed.

— Mary Baker Eddy, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, p. 340, emphasis added

Visit christianscience.com/annualmeeting for more information.

A look beyond the news story: "Finding Resilience in Ukraine."

Editors, reporters, and staff of The Christian Science Monitor recently held a public online event, looking at the conflict between Russia and Ukraine through the Monitor's unique lens. See the event replay at csmonitor.com/Ukraine –and feel free to share it with your staff, members, and visitors.

From the Mary Baker Eddy Library

The May episode of Seekers and Scholars is now available!

Episode 65. The Monitor in Moscow

Learn about The Christian Science Monitor's impactful reporting from Russia during the twentieth century. We explore the paper's longstanding engagement with that country, from the last years of Tsarist rule to the beginning of the Russian Federation, following the Soviet Union's 1991 collapse. Our guests are Marshall Ingwerson, a former Monitor correspondent in Moscow, and Dorothy Rivera, Manager of Research Services at the Library. She gives special attention to the career of correspondent Edmund Stevens, including his series "This is Russia Uncensored," which earned the Monitor its first Pulitzer Prize in 1950. Stevens' examination of Soviet society stood out for its in-depth and courageous truth-telling during the Stalin era. Drawing from his own reporting in the last decade of the twentieth century, Ingwerson discusses what it was like for Russians to confront the possibilities of a new future after the Soviet Union's fall.

Seekers and Scholars is The Mary Baker Eddy Library's monthly podcast series. It features interviews with people who are exploring the many and diverse ways Mary Baker Eddy's ideas and lifework have influenced our world. Episodes are available on our website, or you can subscribe through Apple Podcasts, Spotify, or wherever you normally get your podcasts.

As always, if you or your visitors have questions about Mary Baker Eddy or the history of the Christian Science movement, you can submit them to our researchers at research@mbelibrary.org or by using the form on our website

You can get the Library's monthly newsletter directly by subscribing here.

The Research Room at The Mary Baker Eddy Library has reopened to the public by appointment only. If you're in Boston, you can come explore the extensive collection of original materials documenting Eddy's life and the church she founded—including letters, manuscripts, organizational records, photographs, artifacts, books, periodicals, and audiovisual materials. Appointments can be scheduled Monday through Thursday, 12:00 noon to 4:00 p.m. Research staff will be available while you're on-site. Find more information about visiting here. No matter where you are, you can also always use our online research services and contact us with questions.

Read transcripts of one of our Sentinel Watch series

You've been asking for transcripts of our audio programs, and they are now available for our Sentinel Watch series, "Where is God When Bad Things Happen?". Help us pass on the news to your Reading Room staff and visitors and your church community. Access all four episodes here.

P.S. Translations in German and Spanish for both audio and transcripts are available, too, for this episode one. French and Portuguese are coming soon—stay tuned!

Share your ideas, inspiration, and questions on Sentinel Watch

Want to get in on the conversation on our weekly Sentinel Watch podcast? You can now record your comments or questions, and send them to us. Sometimes our hosts will have questions for you; other times you might just feel inspired to share a thought or an experience with us. We listen to each and every message and may use yours in an upcoming Sentinel Watch program. Spread the news with your Reading Room staff and visitors + church community. Submit here.
