

Inspiration

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Brunswick, Maine, United States had a special visitor to their Reading Room.

They shared:

A passerby took this photo of our Reading Room window last week and stopped by the Reading Room the next day when we were open to share it with the staff person. In conversation she said she's been a subscriber to the Christian Science Monitor for years and loves it.

It is still a mystery to us as to how a chicken found her way to our Reading Room on Maine St. in downtown Brunswick, Maine, but we're glad she enjoyed the passages marked in the window!
